[REDACTED]

Dear Mr. [REDACTED]:

This letter is in response to your letter received on August 14, 1992.

As I have related to you in the past the case concerning your daughters and the allegations of sexual abuse has been closed. Our investigation concluded an unsubstantiated finding. This finding indicates that there was not enough information or evidence to indicate the allegations that you had sexually abused your daughters. Both investigations conducted by myself and [REDACTED] had unsubstantiated findings.

It is obvious that you are still very much concerned about the allegations that are and have been brought against you. However, this Department will not reinvestigate unless we receive a report that your daughters are making specific allegations of sexual abuse.

Your letter will be included in the record of the last investigation.

Sincerely;

[REDACTED]
